Saving St John’s - What happens next?

The CCT has recently invested £51,875 to fund vital repairs to windows and doors, using a grant from the government’s Cultural Recovery Fund. We have also received donations from private individuals for the project; this generous support will enable us to develop our ideas further.

The CCT and the Chamber of Commerce are now working together to:

- Complete a full business plan, to ensure that the proposed uses are sustainable and resilient, and respond to local needs.

- Undertake further research, with appropriate specialists, into the condition of the building in particular the roof.

- Commission a quantity surveyor to assess the full costs of repair and the new interventions

- Consider environmental performance and ways in which the regenerated building might mitigate the effects of climate change and achieve net-zero.

We have applied for further funding from the Architectural Heritage Fund to complete the next stage.

We are also seeking the views of members of the public and local stakeholders.
Please email your thoughts and ideas to ejohnson@thecct.org.uk.
